Herein we find our students

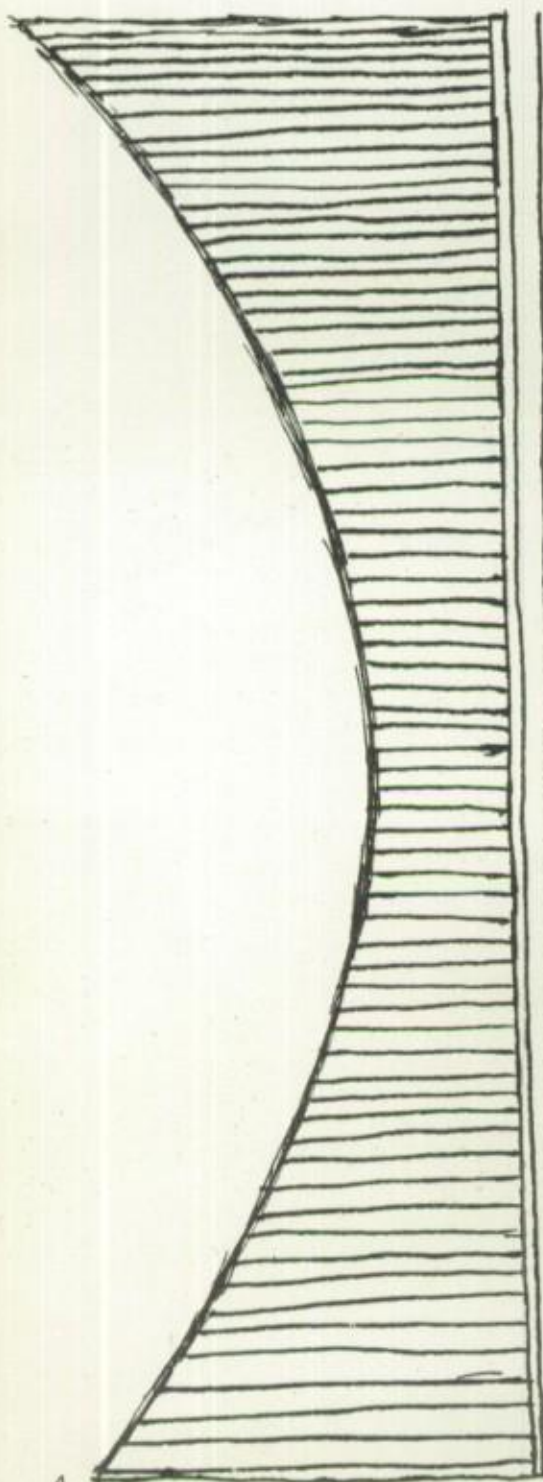

Our school is measured by what the students have produced, guided in their endeavors by the faculty--dedicated men who have given us the opportunity to raise our talents to the zenith of their potential.

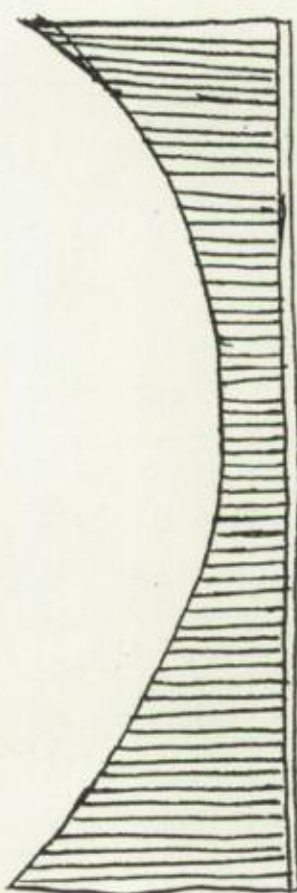

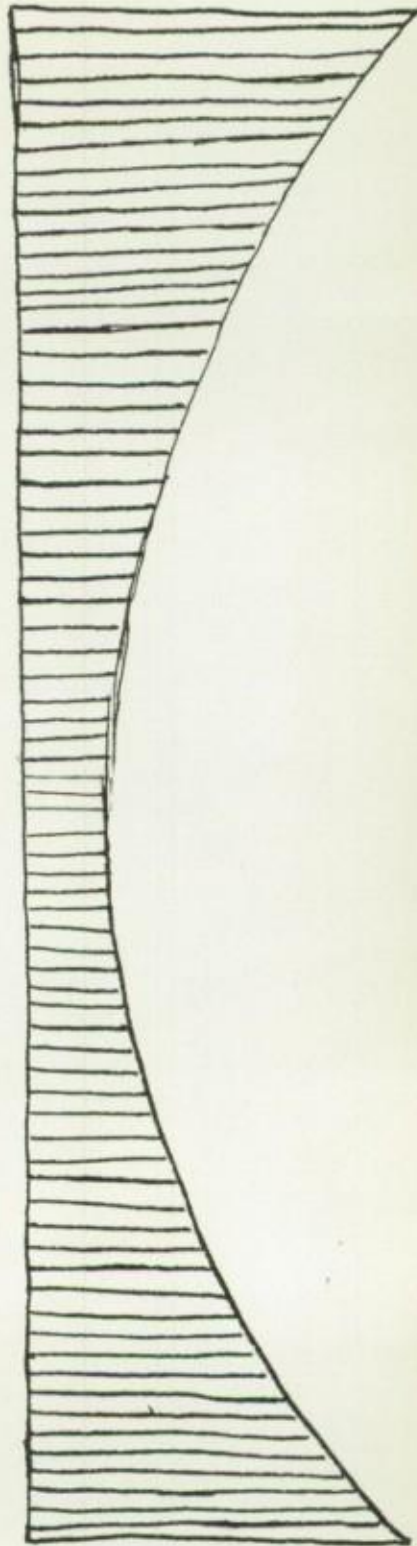

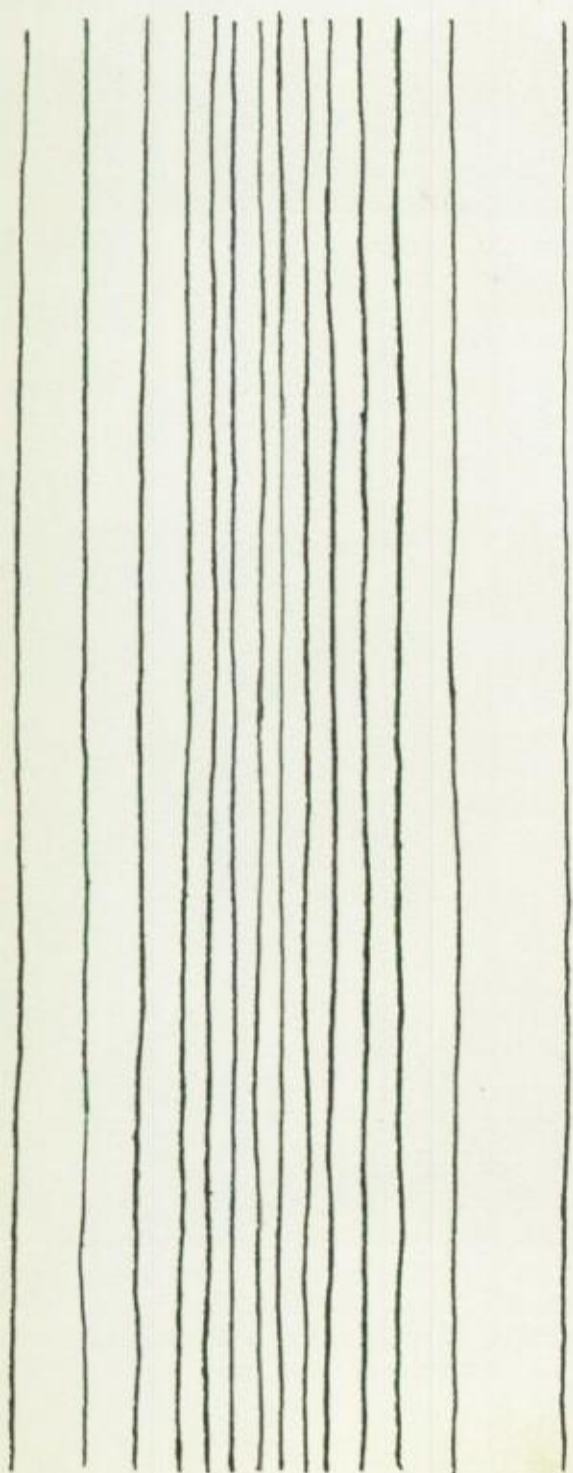

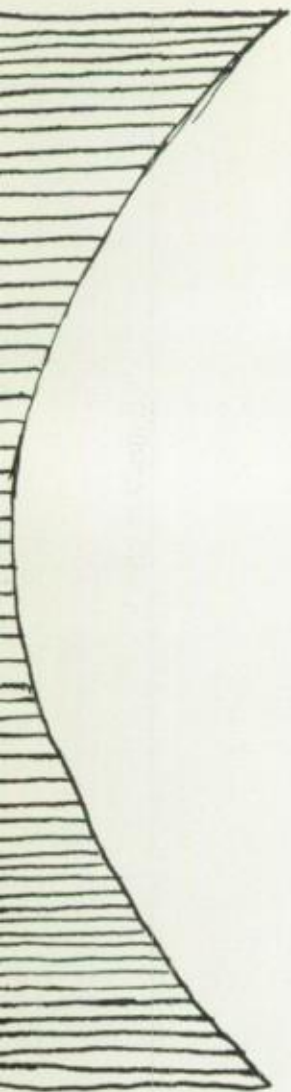

Herein we find our faculty

Our common goals have been met by an instinctive spirit, one of co-operation-unifying us in mind and purpose whenever there is a challenge confronting us.

Michael Perlongo

He was my friend. He was the brother I never had. Everyone in his lifetime should be lucky enough to know someone like him. He wasn't perfect by any means, but his faults were common ones and his many virtues were exemplary. He had the ability to enter a room crowded with strangers, and, in a very short time, number them his friends.

Tears have been shed, and will continue to be shed - but the joy of knowing his present home consoles me.

Mike Perlongo was my friend - and now he's gone.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1964 Crusader season produced a much more successful team than was expected. This was due to the fine coaching of Mr. William Flynn, who, in his second year of coaching at Brother Rice, has come up with the hardest hitting team in the Catholic League, and to the team members, who, through their desire to win, gave Brother Rice Football its best season yet -- 6 wins and 3 losses.

The Crusaders six victories were achieved by beating some of the finest teams in Chicago. Rated first and second in South Section, powerful Mt. Carmel and Leo fell to the Crusaders. From the North Section, highly regarded Gordon Tech and Fenwick were disposed of 22 - 14 and 20 - 0.

Congratulations to the team and the coaches. With a talented and experienced team returning next year, Brother Rice will be a strong contender for the City Championship.

Co-Captain Jack Pautsch falls on a Leo fumble.

Coach Flynn teaches the fine points of tackling in practice.

(*low score wins)

The varsity cross country team successfully defended their Catholic League Crown this season by nipping second place Loyola by a score of 30-32.

The season was highlighted by the harriers posting a dual meet record of 15 wins and 1 loss. In the South Section Meet the Crusaders stole the limelight by scoring a low of 26 points compared to second place Leo having 58 points.

In the past two seasons the varsity has won both the South Section and Catholic City Championship. Their dual meet record was an astounding 26 wins and 3 losses.

The first forward line, composed of Jeff Ulanski, Charley Marx, and Tom Gallagher pumped in a total of 20 goals. Additional scoring support was added by the second forward line of Paul Bitter, Pat Cody, and Bill Laase. The sum total of their efforts was 18 goals. Defensemen Jack Perdue, Brian Quirk, Dennis Figler, and Captain Dan Purcell supplied excellent and consistent play, holding opposing teams to 11 goals. The 1964-65 season was one of pleasant surprise for the Heavies and their followers. Not considered as a contender for the championship, the Heavies started the season looking like an also-ran. But the team began to play as a team, and they captured third place in the DePaul Christmas tournament. From here on, the Crusaders looked like the team to beat. They won their first 3 league games, and were tied for first place for most of the season. The Heavies then went on to post a league record of 9 won and 3 lost. The team was led by seniors Den Sendlak, Kirk Norris, Tom Tracy, Rich Rutkowski, John Herich, and junior Mike Mossuto. Congratulations to the team and Mr. Kellogg.

Ladd tips the ball to Michalak

REBOUND!

The 1965 Lightweights were spearheaded by seniors, Rich Collins, Joe Sullivan, Ned Haskins, Steve Ladd, Mike Nolan, Denny St. Germaine, Tom Roebuck, and Bob Michalak. The team showed good balanced scoring, with Collins and Nolan leading the attack.

Although the season record of does not seem terrific, one need only look to see that the point spread in any of the Crusader losses was never very large. Many of the Crusader losses came when the team had lost two or three of its starting five, through foul trouble.

Much credit must be given to Mr. Kellogg, who whipped the team into shape, and instilled into them the drive that marks the difference between a winner and a loser.

Tennis also went intramural this year.

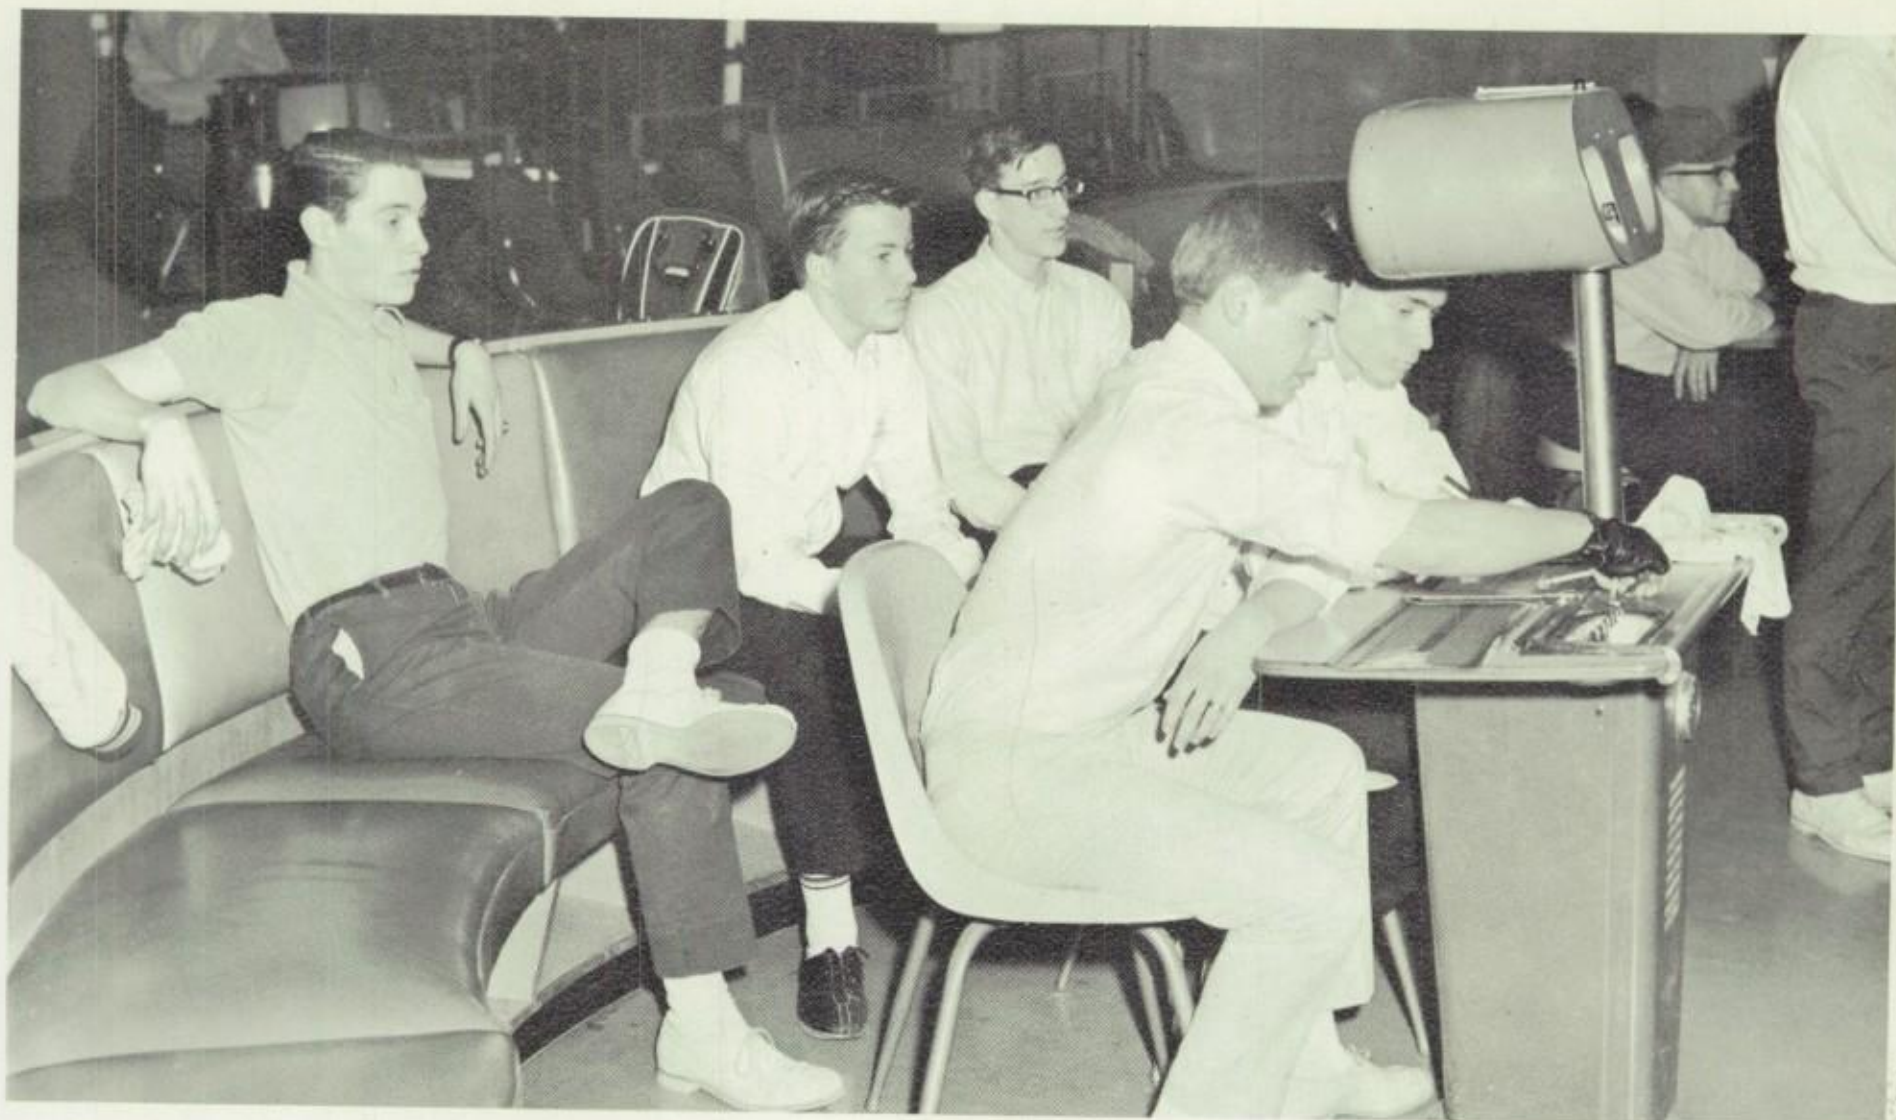

The sport section of any yearbook would be incomplete if there wasn't a section about the intramural sports. Here at Brother Rice we are lucky to have one of the best intramural systems of any school. Intramural sports are: basketball, handball, hockey, tennis, softball, and bowling. Besides helping to round out the schedule of a Riceman, intramurals have proved to be of great help to the Varsity coaches, who can spot performers who could aid their teams.

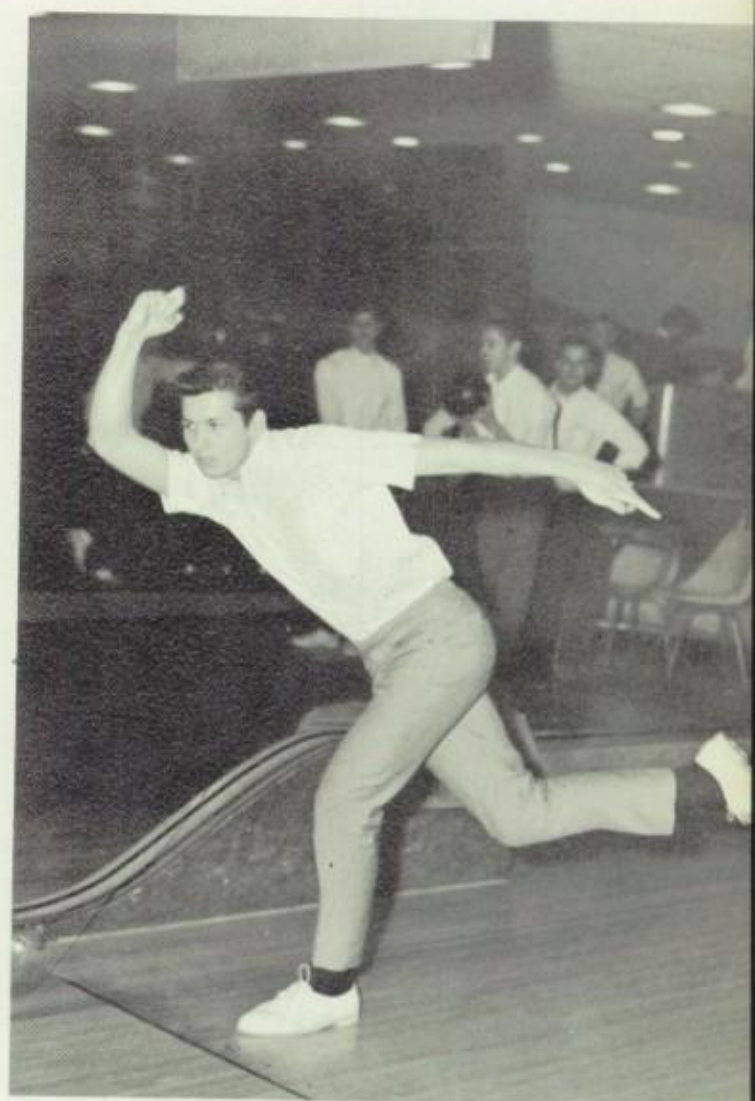

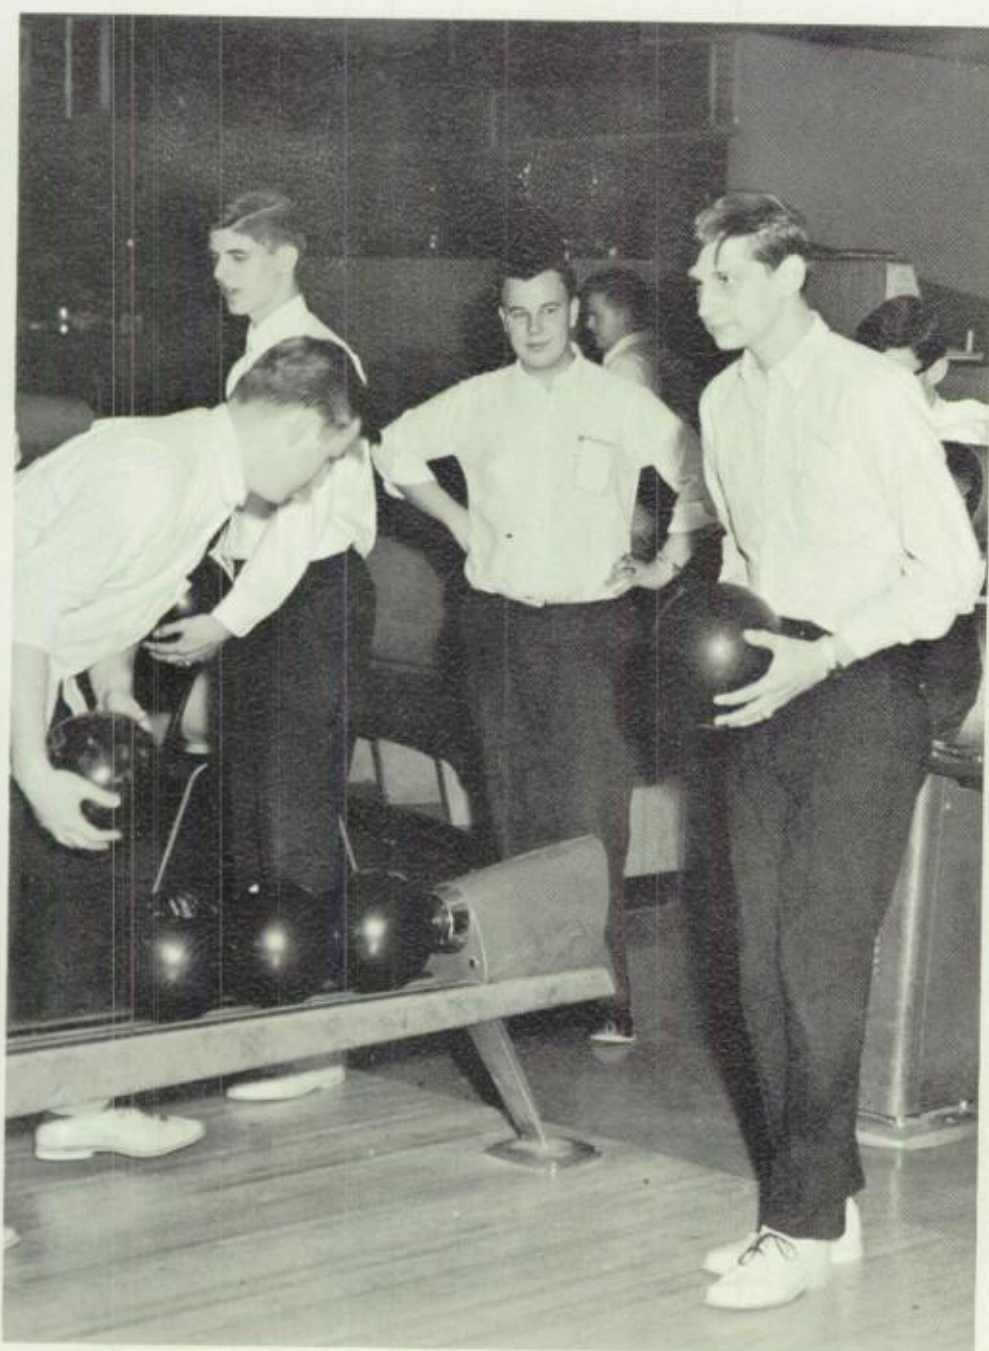

Things often get a little rough in these intramural games.

Tom Downey, third place finisher in City, does a gainer

The 1964-65 season saw Mr. Kral and Br. McNamara turn out the best swim team that Br. Rice has ever produced. The Junior team captured fourth place in the Loyola Relays, then came back to take third place in the City Championships. The Senior Team captured third place in the College Event's Day, Friar Relays, and City Championship meets.

The culmination of the season was the City Championship, which found the seniors qualifying ten individuals and two relay teams. Greg Gapsis and Joe Ladouceur both posted times of 57.6 seconds in the 100 yd. butterfly to set a school record. At the same time, Captain Paul Meyer was setting a school record of 1:49.2 in the 200 yd. freestyle. This time qualified him as the first Br. Rice swimmer to make the All-American High School team.

Repeating as City Champions this year, the Brother Rice Water Polo Team continued its winning ways with its second championship in as many years.

Under the coaching of James Mulcrone, the team came from behind in the second annual Br. Rice tournament, beating Fenwick in two overtime play-off games, to take the title.

The quality of the team is exemplified by the fact that in the past three years three seniors have been chosen members of the "Inter-Scholastic All-American Water Polo Team". Paul Akers in '63, Bill Meyer in '64, and Greg Gapsis this year, each considered one of the thirty best high school players in the nation.

Even though the team is losing five of its senior players, with returning players Joe Ladouceur, Neil McMahon, George Sefzick, and Mike Barry it should remain one of the major powers in the city.

This year again, the Brother Rice tumbling team has been the good will ambassador of BRHS. They again performed during halftime ceremonies at the Chicago Stadium, DePaul U. and so on. Their popularity spread and spread, and whenever anyone mentioned Brother Rice, a person thought of those "guys that do all those tricks." Brother Rinaldini's tumblers were featured in a full page article in the Chicago American.

senior glee club

Once again this year, the Senior Glee Club has remarkable skill in the performance of its concerts. The excellent spirit of the group is reflected by the enthusiasm with which their songs are presented. Moderated by Brother Galway, the club consists of approximately eighty members, many of whom are upperclassmen. The members of the club are devoted to cultural activities in the school as well as athletics. Other than participating in the Christmas Concert at Brother Rice and performing for the student body at the Christmas assembly, the Glee Club represented our school at the Museum of Science and Industry during their famous "Christmas Around the World" exhibition. Under the able direction of Mr. Garrels, the sections presented their annual Spring Concert which was held in May.

The Brother Rice French Club has long been a means by which the language and culture of France has been spread among the students. Every year, under the capable and exacting moderatorship of Brother Wolf, the members of the club entertain new adventures. In addition, there are standard annual activities to occupy the members of the Cercle Francais. These include the publication of the French newspaper, "La Tonnerre" and the traditional pilgrimage to a gigantic soiree prepared by the students of Bishop Knoll High School, Indiana. This year's activities were highlighted by an interschool meeting of French Clubs at the Sacred Heart of Mary Academy.

The Sodality of Our Lady is dedicated to the Blessed Virgin and its aim is to bring both its members and all the students of Brother Rice closer to Christ through His mother. The Sodality is moderated by Brother Moore and is divided into senior and junior groups. Its main activity is running an annual Christmas Dinner and Turkey Drive for the needy, and it also sponsors weekly Benediction. The members meet every week and attend a Day of Recollection once a year, during which they become enrolled in the world-wide Sodality of Our Lady. The Sodality is one of the most important and beneficial organizations in the school.

Emphasizing the necessity for advancement in the field of Catholic Action, the Young Christian Students, under the guidance of Brothers Crane and Kelly, was introduced into Brother Rice. As a new innovation in our school, the group's purposes are many and varied, but primarily it aims at preparing members for leadership in the lay apostolate.

By close contact with their friends and classmates, members acquaint themselves with the problems faced by young adults. These mutual difficulties are then discussed at the weekly meetings where practical solutions are sought by eliminating or altering the cause of the problem. This positive action, which results from each meeting is the heart of Catholic Action. It is attained by the application of Christian principles to modern social problems.

Stemming from this technique of observing, judging, and acting, Y.C.S.'ers have sponsored several school projects in the field of Catholic Action. Civil Rights speakers were invited to speak to the students on the racial problem; visits to the Little Brothers of the Poor were organized; and food and clothing were given to the poor, bought with money obtained by Christmas Caroling. The hi-lite of the year, however, was the visitation to Oak Forest Hospital. Encouraged by club members, many students offered their day to bring gifts and happiness to elderly patients.

The Library Club, moderated by Brother E.G. Pilon, remains as one of the most important clubs in the school. The care and running of the library is entrusted to its members. For this reason club members are thoroughly trained in library procedure and are ready to help any students needing assistance.

Besides daily work in the library, meetings are held on the first Friday of the month. The club also seeks the spiritual development of its members. Club members attend monthly Mass and Communion in a body.

The Club attends two CASII (Catholic Association of Student Librarians of Illinois) meetings a year and is frequently invited to other schools for discussions or socials.

The Art Club, under the guidance of Br. Chapman, has been engaged in many projects during the past year. Sculpture was the first art experience tackled by the club. Using gauze saturated with plaster of paris, the artists built their sculptural forms over a prepared wire fixture. The results ranged from abstract forms to racing horses.

The next project undertaken was water color. The many difficulties of this technique had to be overcome, however, before any results could be seen. A new vinyl-base water paint was then used, and the water color difficulties were eliminated in exploring this new medium. Many beautiful works of art were produced.

One more venture into the third dimension was attempted with string construction. This was not only fascinating but also provided the club with many enjoyable hours.

On week-day evenings, a small group of chess players gathered in the back of the physics lab to compete for standing on the Brother Rice Chess Team. This was used for matching players in interscholastic tournaments. The club is affiliated with the Chicago Catholic Chess conference. The club finished third last year in conference standings and this year, the prospects seemed the same. Brother Crane is the moderator of this club.

The Debating Club returned this year after two years' absence. Under the instruction of Mr. J.C. Lalley, the members worked hard to further Brother Rice's fine reputation in the Chicago Forensics League. The club also participated in many tournaments at other schools. Mr. Lalley has promised that the club will be back next year greatly strengthened.

The Pep Club, moderated by Brother Barry, is an organization consisting primarily of seniors, which tries to bring out the enthusiasm of the student body. Several juniors are included, however, because of their school spirit. When the Crusaders are faced with an important game, the members of this club give their time and effort to plan and decorate for pep rallies. The signs which appear throughout the building before football and basketball games are products of the imagination and hard work of this organization. Cheerleaders try to bring out the school spirit of the crowds, and spur the team on to victory. Because ten or twelve cheerleaders cannot bear the burden alone, this club deserves the support of the entire student body in the form of greater participation at games.

dads' club

The Brother Rice Dads' Club aims to help the fathers of Brother Rice students help the school. Their main project, a swimming pool for the school, has been speeded up this year by joining with the Mothers' Club in the raffle drive. The dads also have provided the ushers at many social and athletic functions at Brother Rice. The moderator, Brother W. D. Neary, and the officers of the club have led the membership in these many worthy goals. The student body gives them many thanks for their wonderful interest and the work they have done for the school.

Here at Brother Rice, the students are fortunate indeed to have this group of mothers who are so interested in the welfare of their sons and of the school. The Mothers' Club has sponsored, this year, various programs designed to raise money for the school to be used in further equipping the Audio-Visual Department. This year, too, the club has aided the fund raising drive for the pool by offering their annual Card Party and Fashion Show. This has been intended to quicken the pace of the drive. The club also looks to the spiritual welfare of the school by encouraging participation in the Family Communion Sundays during the year. The students join with the faculty in thanking the Mothers' Club for its splendid assistance.

The Mothers' Alumnae Club was founded to continue the friendships and close cooperation among the mothers of Brother Rice graduates. The club also raises funds to be used for the building of a Novitiate. This year, funds have been raised for this end through the production of a Card Party, "Swingheart" Dance, Rummage Sale, and many other activities. These mothers are working to further the influence of the Brothers, and they receive the gratitude of the students.

The Astronomy Club has its eyes on the stars and is working hard to improve the view. Under the direction of Brother L.A. Quinn, the club is trying to achieve its goal—the construction of a 10-inch telescope and an observatory. With this instrument, the club plans to do many advanced projects. Some of these include investigations into the polarization of light from the planet Jupiter and heat curves of variable stars. A couple of members are attending the Astro-Science Workshop at the Adler Planetarium and others are building their own telescopes. This year members have taken field trips to Yerkes Observatory.

"CQ, CQ, CQ . . ."—Brother Rice's own radio station, W9EJX, makes a general call to another amateur radio station. The operation of W9EJX is the chief function of the Electronics Club. Contacts with over ten foreign countries have been made by W9EJX. These countries include nearby Mexico and Canada and distant lands, such as Germany and Czechoslovakia. Contacts have also been made with other high schools' stations. The club runs Morse code classes to help interested students obtain amateur licenses. The electric shop is the headquarters of the station's equipment.

The Darwin Biological Society, moderated by Brother Murphy, has the main purpose of promoting biological careers and expanding the members' knowledge of science. The facilities of the biology laboratory and Brother Murphy's advice and ideas are always available to assist the members. Many individual members' projects received high awards in this year's Science Fair. The task of caring for living specimens in the lab further adds to the members' appreciation of biology and to their knowledge. These organisms are used in the course of experimentation carried out by the club. The club has been a worthwhile experience for all concerned.

This year's Chemistry Club has been one of the most active in the school's history. The club was moderated by Brother Doherty for the first semester, then by Brother Quinn for the remainder of the year. A long list of experiments and activities is being completed by the club to provide its members with experience in certain aspects of chemistry not taught in a regular high school course. The club toured the Argonne National Laboratories and the Abbott Laboratories this year, and it repeated a previous experiment to determine the percentage of tars and nicotine in common brands of cigars and cigarettes. Lectures and many more interesting experiments have made this club enjoyable and rewarding for all its members.

One of the most beneficial and interesting of the activities at Brother Rice is the Physics Club. Under the guidance of Brother Crane, the club is in its sixth year of success. The club meetings are held weekly in the physics lab where the members enjoy the excellent science facilities. The students, while seeking an introduction and valuable experience in college-level laboratory work, find the experiments interesting and often amusing. The meetings consist of an introductory explanation of the laboratory procedure, and the actual experiment. The experimental results are discussed at a following meeting. Each experiment is designed by Br. Crane to develop laboratory skills necessary to college-minded students. The work usually corresponds to the subject matter studied in the physics course at that time. The purpose of the club is to allow the students to perform experiments and investigate physical phenomena on an advanced level. Encouraging the students to seek their own conclusions develops the elements of curiosity and thought, both of which are necessary to the future scientist.

Members of the Engineering Club work to perfect the engine to be used in their Ground Effects Machine.

advanced physics club

The Advanced Physics Club includes eight members devoted to scientific research. The members are divided into two separate projects, both in the field of low vacuum physics. The oldest group has been endeavoring to obtain a phenomenon known as electron diffraction. Three years ago, a second group was formed to build an electron microscope.

Because of the amount and caliber of work required, each member spends about five hours weekly on his project. Members usually join as freshmen or sophomores so that by the time they are seniors, they will be expert in their field to guide the rest of the club along.

Besides theoretical knowledge, many technical skills must be learned to carry out the expanding aspects of the projects. Skills such as glass-blowing, film developing, and simple machining are very useful.

Brother Crane, the club's moderator provides an atmosphere of college level research. He also gives assistance to the group when members are stumped by some new problem.

engineering club

The Brother Rice Engineering Club provides an excellent training ground for future engineers. Through the club's project, members learn of the problems and difficulties of the Engineering profession as they tackle all the jobs of a professional engineer.

At the present, a Ground Effects Machine is being designed and built. Since final specifications on body design cannot be made until the engine to be used is perfected, most of the club's present activity is centered around this engine. With this work to be completed in the not too distant future, progress should speed up and within a short time Rice's Engineers hope to be merrily gliding around the campus on a cushion of air.

An interesting feature of the engineering club is that most of the work is done on the basis of what its members already know. Over its two year history at Rice, the practice has been to assign duties to the men who have had some special knowledge or interest in that field. In that way the members learn from each other as they work to complete the project.

Under the leadership of Brother Mahoney and Editor Joe McDonough, the STANDARD, this year, has combined the traditions of the past STANDARDS with new ideas and concepts. It has come to serve as the voice of the student.

The covers were planned to provide a varied look at the faces of Brother Rice. Features were presented in a way so as to include several aspects of student life. Clubs continued to be emphasized in an attempt to acquaint students with their functions and accomplishments. The editorials were meant to be thought provoking and to serve to echo the ideas the STANDARD wishes to convey. Three more columns were added to the paper this year and athletics, particularly major sports, were given as much space as possible.

The enthusiasm and continued support for the paper served as a source of satisfaction for the entire staff.

Brother Shannon, Guidance Director and Student Council Moderator, has breathed a new atmosphere of purpose into the Student Council organization. A new school constitution laid the framework for the changes to come. Under the leadership of John Cerovski and Jack Pautsch the Council initiated measures for the betterment of Brother Rice and provided valuable training in self-government for its members. The Student Council sponsored and managed pep rallies, dances, and other activities in an effort to promote greater involvement in the school. The Prom and class gift were two of the larger undertakings. The orange derbies worn at the football games and the knight who made fame as the Brother Rice Crusader were two of the minor innovations used to develop keener school spirit. The 1964-65 Student Council has set a new course for the future leaders of Brother Rice High School.

Again the retreat was held at Saint Mary's Retreat House in suburban Lemont. Father Aloysius and Father Mark, both Franciscan retreat masters, did an excellent job of helping the seniors, many of whom were making their first closed retreat, through their understanding counseling of the boy's problems.

If there is any force at Brother Rice responsible for the publication of this book it is the spirit of the faculty and student body. Their enthusiastic devotion to the religious, academic, and athletic facets of the school has lent inspiration to the year-book staff. The "Crusader" is only one more tribute to their effort and achievement.

A special debt of gratitude is owed to Brother Kelleher and Mr. Robert Hanson of Wallinger Studios for the fine photographic work they contribute each year, and to Mr. Norman King, publisher, who pieces our work together for the final product. And finally we extend our deepest thanks to Brother Chapman and Brother Moffett for their guidance which compensated for our inexperience and for their patience which withstood our failings.
